

Diploma in Tropical Medicine & Hygiene (DTM&H)

Why study the DTM&H with us?

- Bernhard Nocht Institute for Tropical Medicine (BNITM) was founded in 1900, the DTM&H has been running since 1905
- Practical course with very clinical focus
- Over 120 lecturers from Africa, Asia, Europe and South America
- Lectures, workshops, interactive group work, clinical teaching, microscopy and more
- Hamburg – where learning meets lifestyle: vibrant culture, leisure, and nature all in one place.

What can you expect to learn?

- Epidemiology, pathophysiology, clinical presentation, treatment and prevention of tropical and travel associated diseases.
- Medical pre-travel consultations including prophylactic measures.
- Principles of occupational health for travellers
- Principles of clinical medicine and public health in low- and middle-income countries.
- Sampling, handling and performance of laboratory examinations including microscopy of helminths.

Learn More

Accredited by

Sign up now, join our classic and enjoy an unforgettable spring in Hamburg!

Costs

- 4,900€ for participants from HICs
- 3,900€ for participants from LMICs
- A limited number of scholarships are available for physicians from LMICs (Application process will be published in September 2025).